QUESTION: Okay.

ANSWER: And answering your original question, without reviewing the document, I don't know why.

QUESTION: As you understand the procedure, would it typically occur that a supervisor in front-end collections would have an account come across her screen that's older than 90 days?

ANSWER: We don't know what the delinquency level of the account was in May of '95.

QUESTION: If indeed the delinquency level, as you referred to it, was greater than 90 days, according to Service Bureau of Indiana, should it come up on main
